

Outcomes Training

for organisations working with the Criminal Justice System

“a two day course which will equip you to introduce an outcomes focus to your organisation; gather and evaluate information; report outcomes and use them for planning”

9.30am - 4.30pm
22nd September and 6th October 2009
Farringdon, London

Funders want to know about your outcomes:

- How does your work affect your service users?
- Do you contribute to the rehabilitation of offenders?
- Does your work enable vulnerable people to lead positive lives in the community?

PARTICIPANT QUOTE:
“One of my staff used the training she received to develop an outcomes framework which she presented to the local PCT and secured more funding for her project. It works!”

These are fundamental questions for your organisation to ensure that you are making a difference and achieving your aims. But how do you measure this?

This course will:

- help you understand what outcomes are and how to identify them
- explore simple ways to collect and measure outcomes (such as the distance travelled on the offender journey)
- present ways for reporting outcomes and how to use them for planning

PARTICIPANT QUOTE:
“Very empowering; lots to take away including the confidence in finding a way of working more effectively”

The training runs on two separate days with a gap of two weeks in between, during which time you will have the opportunity to apply what you have learned.

Who should attend?

This course is a must for Voluntary & Community and Statutory Sector staff including project managers, fundraisers, case managers, those responsible for performance management, and one-to-one client support workers.
